

YOUNG BUYERS ENJOY AUTHENTIC NEIGHBOURHOOD IN BOWMANVILLE!

Since moving into their new Liberty Crossing home in Intracorp's traditional heritage community in Bowmanville, Julie and Chris Startek have set down roots for their young family. "We both grew up in Oshawa and when we discovered Bowmanville, it is such a growing town with lots of newly married and young couples moving here, we were sold!" says Julie. "We have so much in common with many of our neighbours and people are so friendly."

After searching for a few months, the couple who were buying for the first time had narrowed down their preferences to new homes in neighbourhoods where they would have the best selection in their price range. "We discovered we could get a lot more for our money here in Bowmanville and it is really no distance to work in Scarborough for me or Pickering for Chris," she adds.

The neighbourhood is ideal for growing families with public and separate schools within walking distance. Shops, restaurants, parks, and bus transit all add to the convenience of this location. "Chris and I like to golf and there's a golf course within a three minute drive of our home," says Julie.

"Now that we have two children, we would like a larger home at some stage, and we would definitely want to buy again in Liberty Crossing. We have some great memories and feel quite settled here," says Julie. In fact, Chris proposed to Julie in front of their home when it was just a hole in the ground, almost 5 years ago.

Julie and Chris are so pleased with their home that they have recommended Intracorp to their friends; and they feel fortunate that a couple have now become their neighbours in Liberty Crossing.
